ESTATE PLANNING MISTAKES

Hello, Mr. and Mrs.

This is a confirmation letter for your attendance at my upcoming Estate Planning workshop where I'll discuss strategies for protecting your family and your assets from the increasing risks from living long and well. On the following pages, you will find your event ticket and a map to the event.

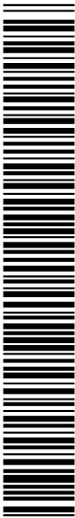

By attending this free event, you will learn strategies for avoiding probate and protecting your nest egg from nursing home and long-term care costs. You will also learn the critical link between estate planning and retirement planning that can massively reduce the income taxes to your beneficiaries. This event will provide you with some insight regarding your planning, as well as simple strategies that could save you thousands of dollars.

Are your hard-earned assets protected? Without a plan, the answer is no. Avoid the estate planning mistakes that could cost you thousands!

Thank you again for your registration, and I look forward to meeting you soon!

Sincerely,
